5. Children/pupils/students use of mobile and smart technology

'Behaviour in School: Advice for headteachers and school staff' states:

“Headteachers should decide if mobile phones can be used during the school day. Many pupils, especially as they get older, will have one of their own. Allowing access to mobiles in school introduces complexity and risks, including distraction, disruption, bullying and abuse, and can be a detriment to learning. Headteachers should consider restricting or prohibiting mobile phones to reduce these risks.

If headteachers decide not to impose any restrictions on mobile phones, they should have a clear plan to mitigate the risks of allowing access to phones. This plan, as part of the school's behaviour policy, should outline the approach to mobile phones and be reiterated to all pupils, staff and parents throughout the school year. Headteachers should ensure it is consistently and fairly applied.”

Headteachers may also wish to access the non-statutory DfE 'Mobile Phones in Schools' guidance as part of their decision making.

- Children will be educated regarding the safe and appropriate use of mobile and smart technology, including mobile phones and personal devices, and will be made aware of behaviour expectations and consequences for policy breaches.
- Safe and appropriate use of mobile and smart technology will be taught to children as part of an embedded and progressive safeguarding education approach using age-appropriate sites and resources.
- Personal mobile or smart technology devices is not permitted on site for children
 - Children are not permitted to use personal mobile or smart devices whilst on the school/setting site. Where these are required, for example for safety reasons when children/young people are transporting to and from school, devices should be turned off/placed on silent and handed into the school/setting office in the morning. They can then be collected at the end of day.
 - Personal mobile or smart devices will not be used by children during lessons or formal educational time.
 - Staff will only allow children to use smart devices or school laptops that are monitored by our classroom.cloud system.
 - Where staff believe children have used smart devices during less time- for example taking pictures, then that pupil will lose the right to walk home alone- school will ask parents to collect.
 - Any arrangements regarding access to personal mobile or smart technology devices in exceptional circumstances will be documented and recorded by the school.

6.1 Searching, screening and confiscation of electronic devices

- Electronic devices, including mobile phones, can contain files or data which relate to an offence, or which may cause harm to another person. This includes, but is not limited to, indecent images of children, pornography, abusive messages, images or videos, or evidence relating to suspected criminal behaviour.
- Where there are any concerns regarding childrens' use of mobile or smart technology or policy breaches, they will be dealt with in accordance with our existing policies, including anti-bullying, child protection and behaviour.

- Staff may confiscate a child's personal mobile or smart technology device if they believe it is being used to contravene our child protection or behaviour policy.
- Personal mobile or smart technology devices that have been confiscated will be held in a secure place and released to parents/carers.
- Where a concern involves a potentially indecent image or video of a child, staff will respond in line with our child protection policy and will confiscate devices, avoid looking at any content, and refer the incident to the DSL (or deputy) urgently as they will be most appropriate person to respond.
- If there is suspicion that data or files on a child's personal mobile or smart technology device may be illegal, or may provide evidence relating to a criminal offence, the device will be handed over to the police for further investigation

6. Policy monitoring and review

- Technology evolves and changes rapidly. St Gerard's will review this policy at least every two years. The policy will be revised following any national or local policy updates, any local concerns and/or any changes to our technical infrastructure.
